THANK YOU FOR ANOTHER GREAT RENDEZVOUS WITH MADNESS FESTIVAL

This year we celebrated the 33rd Annual Rendezvous with Madness Festival. This year, our programming disrupted the focus and challenged the systems that define and contain what it means to live with madness, and interrogated the stories that have been written about us rather than by us.

Every artist featured in Rendezvous 2025 is a disruptor.

How did you enjoy #RWMFEST this year? We value your feedback. Please fill our audience survey and let us know your thoughts so we can continue improving your festival experience.

VISIT OUR #RWMFEST EXHIBITION: Lingering Echoes

Featured as part of this year's Rendezvous with Madness Festival, Lingering Echoes brings into conversation personal sound-centered artworks by artists Aliyah Aziz, Ghislan Sutherland-Timm, Middle, Tanya Louise Workman, and Winta Hagos.

Collectively and individually, the artworks take up themes of resistance, collectivity, embodiment, silence, and resilience.

The exhibition is NOW OPEN until Sunday, November 30. Visit our gallery at 32 Lisgar St, Toronto (2nd Floor, Room 12) between Thursday and Sunday from 1-6 PM.

JOIN US FOR THE LAUNCH OF OUR LITERARY ANTHOLOGY - Up:Rising

For the second time in over three decades of supporting artists living with mental health issues and/or addictions, Workman Arts in collaboration with Strangers in a Tangled Wilderness is publishing a print literary anthology – launching on Sunday, November 30, 2025.

Exhibition Installer Roster Application

We're hoping to accumulate a solid list of skilled installers that we can work with for Being Scene/Rendezvous with Madness.

We generally have 3-4 exhibitions a year and require 1-2 installers per exhibition for both install and de-install. Our gallery is a bit of an unconventional space and may require some creative problem solving. Our installers are generally asked to paint, handle and package artworks, use hanging hardware, do A/V set up, and more.
